

Teammates in Safety,

Please print and post the attached pictures for our co-workers. I know we have all seen many of these types of things before. It simply reiterates the fact that we must constantly be aware of every last detail in our work environment. Unfortunately, it is not always going to be our own actions that get us, but if we maintain a high level of awareness we may be able to avoid or minimize the effects.

Jerry

